

Contact Details for Planning Authorities for Scottish Vacant & Derelict Land Survey (SVDLS)

Please note that it is the planning authorities who are the original data owners of information on individual sites. The information should not be used in such a way that would infringe copyright. Permission should be obtained from the relevant planning authority before any such use. Contact details for each planning authority are available below.

If you have an enquiry about a specific site on the register, you should contact the local authority where the site is situated. If you are interested in purchasing a site on the register, you should contact the owners of the land. The relevant local authority may be able to provide details of the land owner. Contact information for each local authority in Scotland is shown below. Alternatively, you could contact the Registers of Scotland which is a Government Agency responsible for maintaining records relating to property in Scotland. Contact details for the Registers of Scotland can be found at their website www.ros.gov.uk. Reasonable care has been taken to ensure the accuracy of the individual site data listed in this Register. However no responsibility is accepted by the Scottish Government or planning authorities for any errors or omissions in the information presented.
